ALUMNI DAY, SAT. MAY 13

Dr. Agnew, Virgil W. Milton '30, chairman of Oglethorpe's Board of Trustees, and Arthur Garson '28, newly elected trustee, pause before tackling college problems at the annual trustees' business meeting on Oglethorpe Day.

VIRGIL W. MILTON '30 WILL LEAD TRUSTEES IN 1960-61

Oglethorpe University Trustees elected Virgil W. Milton '30 chairman during the annual business meeting which was held on the campus on Oglethorpe Day, February 14.

Mr. Milton is General Manager of Atlanta Retail Stores of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and this year he is serving as chairman of the Atlanta Community Chest campaign.

Others elected to office for the 1960-61 year are: James M. Sibley,

Duchess Club Plans Luncheon

The Duchess Club extends a cordial invitation to all former Duchesses to attend the Alumni Day luncheon on May 13 at 12 noon. It will take place at Hart's Restaurant on Peachtree Road near Buckhead. For reservations or information please contact Mrs. Wendell Brown at CEder 3-3535 or Pat Griffin, CEder 7-8110. Both may be reached with correspondence addressed c/o Oglethorpe University, Atlanta 19, Ga.

Concert Added Plus Baseball, Plays, Smorgasbord

Under the direction of Harry Wren '34, the Alumni Day committee has planned an entertaining and stimulating array of activities for the anticipated record number of Oglethorpe's VIP's on Saturday, May 13.

Favorite and essential events have been retained. They include a rifle match, 10 A.M.; baseball game with The Citadel, 2:30 P.M.; plays, 8 P.M.; and annual meetings of the Alumni Assn., 5 P.M., and Booster Club, 12:30 P.M.

Registration will begin at noon. Alumni may get their complimentary dinner tickets at the registration desk in the Great Hall.

The Boosters have added to their program a free buffet luncheon for alumni who will attend the Booster Club meeting and movies of the Petrel-Peru State game in Kansas City.

Many former students have voiced a wish to see their old professors. Faculty members will be in their offices at 1 P.M. Retired faculty have also been invited to attend.

An art show is planned for the day in Phoebe Hearst Hall, and a Spring Concert, sponsored by the Oglethorpe Woman's Club, will be held in the Great Hall at 3 P.M. Professional musicians and the Oglethorpe chorus will offer an interesting program.

Following refreshments served by the Duchess Club, Dr. Agnew will give a progress report of the college and Alumni Assn. officers for the coming

ALUMNI OFFICE HELPS ALUMNI

Though not generally known, the Alumni Office frequently serves alumni as a reference for a new position or promotion.

Investigators from the FBI, armed forces, civil service and industry come to the campus often to "check-out" an alumnus. Investigations are usually for the more responsible positions, but they cover a wide range of activities.

In addition to verifying an alumnus' college academic and extra-curricular record, investigators wish to know about his civic and social interests, accomplishments and similar information. One of the reasons a questionnaire is sent to each alumnus every three years is to keep his file current.

Information is given discreetly only after investigators show proper identification. This procedure eliminates our giving information to unauthorized persons such as salesmen, bill collectors or to firms simply desiring an additional mailing list.

Approved investigators are given information verbally. They do not see documents which contain highly personal information or items that could embarrass an alumnus.

The Alumni Office is glad to be able to serve you in this manner, but it needs your help. Keep the office informed of your address, and keep your file up to date by sending news about your honors, achievements and activities in which you take part.

If you have a suggestion that will make the Alumni Office more valuable to you, please let us know about it.

YOUR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By the time this reaches you, this administration will have almost completed its term in office. We are elated over the response to the Forward Oglethorpe Fund campaign -- over $22,000 contributed toward the goal of $27,000. Over 600 loyal alumni have shown their faith in their alma mater compared with 356 last year.

The testimonial breakfast, honoring Drs. Jarrell and Collins during the GEA meeting, was a magnificent affair. Two hundred and sixty alumni were enthusiastic in their attendance.

The annual Fall Dinner-Dance was a delightful occasion held at the Hellenic Center. That is a time when Alumni have an opportunity to renew old friendships and recall their memorable days at Oglethorpe.

Oglethorpe University is having a wonderful year as it basks in well-deserved recognition. Much publicity was earned by the Petrel basketball team which represented our region in the NAIA tournament in Kansas City.

Yet, there are some alumni whom we have failed to reach. As Churchill stated so eloquently, "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few." Those few in our field are the ones who remained close to Oglethorpe during the lean years. What can we do to really convince you that the best investment in our country's future is an investment in the schools, in particular our alma mater, that educate the future citizens of our great nation?

If some question remains, or some doubt lingers that causes you to hesitate to help Oglethorpe, please talk to us. We need the support of each and every alumnus in order that our college can continue to move rapidly towards the position it should occupy.

If you have not already done so, won't you demonstrate your support by sending a check today?

Finally, don't miss the Alumni Day spectacular May 13th!

Sincerely,
O.K. Sheffield, Jr., President
National Alumni Association

The Development Corner

by
Norman B. Thomson
Development Director

During the six months I have been privileged to work with the Trustees, Administrative Officers, Faculty, Alumni and Friends of Oglethorpe, I have been impressed by the statement, oft repeated: "I hear good things of Oglethorpe"

In New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, the Carolinas, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, throughout Georgia, our alumni have evidenced their confidence in Oglethorpe's future with gifts that make possible the building of a foundation of a greater Oglethorpe.

Plans are being made for a student body numbering 800, twice our present enrollment. To adequately house and instruct the growing student body, we must expand our physical facilities. Our unfolding plans call for a library, a science building, a student center, and housing facilities for 400 students on the campus.

On May 13th, Alumni Day, a model of the future campus will be on display. Alumni will be pleased with what they see and hear when they return and mingle with their former classmates. Hundreds of Alumni - from the day of World War I Oglethorpe Cadets in 1917 to last years graduates - will be on hand. Alumni Day will see the greatest outpouring of the sons and daughters of Oglethorpe in the University's history.

At the present time a Development Committee of 101 is being gathered to spearhead our efforts in expansion. Virgil W. Milton, '30 our Chairman of the Board of Trustees, is chairman of the Development Committee. His vice-chairman is R. E. "Red" Dorrough, so well known to Oglethorpe Alumni of the past forty years. These two understanding, aggressive business leaders know how to "crack the whip."

The "Development Corner" will be a regular feature of following issues of the Flying Petrel and will relate the unfolding story of the progress of your Development Committee. The first meeting of the Committee will be held

PRINCIPAL HINSON HAS FLOCK OF PETRELS

The old saying, "Birds of a feather flock together," could not be truer than at the John B. Gordon Elementary School in Atlanta.

James H. Hinson '49, principal, has eight Petrels in his flock: Mrs. Edwin H. (Nancy Tarrant) Calhoun '60, Mrs. Donald T. (Louise Murray) Clements '52, Mrs. Carl B. (Lillian R.) Johnson '37, Mrs. Esther Miller '59, Mrs. Hardy (Esther Benson) Strickland '56, Mrs. Alice Sutton '38, Mrs. J. D. (Beverly Bechtel) Thompson, Jr. '51 and Lillian Thrasher '38.

attorney in Atlanta, vice chairman and chairman of the Curriculum and Library Committee; Philip H. Alston, Jr., also an Atlanta attorney, secretary and chairman of the Personnel Committee; Morton L. Feiss, President of Montag Bros., Inc. treasurer and chairman of the Budget Control Committee. Mr. Weiss is co-chairman of metropolitan Atlanta's third United Appeal of the Community Chest-Red Cross.

The executive committee is rounded out with George E. Goodwin, Vice-President of the First National Bank of Atlanta, chairman of the Public Relations Committee; William C. Perkins '29, President of Atlanta Brush Co., chairman of Buildings and Grounds; and G. Arthur Howell, Atlanta attorney, chairman of Endowments and Investments.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Milton, O. K. Sheffield '53, President of the Alumni Association, and Dr. Donald C. Agnew, Oglethorpe President, delivered brief addresses concerning several aspects of the Oglethorpe program.

GARSON, DOROUGH NAMED TO O.U. BOARD

Two members were added to the Oglethorpe Board of Trustees on Oglethorpe Day, February 14. Arthur Garson '28, President of the Lovable Brassiere Co., and R. E. "Red" Dorough, owner of Dorough Realty Co. in Buckhead, were named to the University's governing body.

After graduating from Oglethorpe in 1928 at the age of 14, Mr. Garson joined his father's young and struggling clothing firm. For the next 13 years, he devoted himself to his business, opening up a sales office in New York City when he was nineteen. The Lovable Brassier Co. is now the acknowledged leader in its field.

Mr. Garson is on the Board of Directors of several social, welfare and charitable institutions. In his spare time, he studies Russian, Japanese and Spanish.

Mr. Dorough will be remembered fondly by alumni of the twenties as proprietor of one of the favorite Petrel hangouts in Buckhead into a major business center in Metropolitan Atlanta. He is unofficially called the Mayor of Buckhead.

Mr. Dorough is a charter member of the Buckhead Fifty Club and Buckhead Elks. He also holds memberships in the Civitans, Masons and Shriners. Currently, he is serving as chairman of the Fulton County Welfare Board and chairman of the Fulton County Jury Commission.

The Board has been greatly strengthened with the additions of these new members.

year will be elected at the annual meeting in the auditorium at 5 P.M.

Always the highlight of the day, the smorgasbord dinner will be served outside (weather permitting) beginning at 6 P.M. An effort will be made to bring old friends together at this time by using a non-rigid eating schedule.

The suggested schedule is: 6 P.M., classes of the 20's; 6:10 P.M., classes of the 30's; 6:20 P.M., classes of the 40's; and 6:30 P.M., classes of the 50's and 60's.

The Players will offer two one-act plays in the auditorium at 8 P.M.

The largest crowd ever to attend an Oglethorpe Alumni Day is expected.

WE GET LETTERS

The success of any event or program is basically the result of the supporting spirit of people behind it. The Forward Oglethorpe Fund, with record shattering contributions and donors this year, has caught on.

The following excerpts are taken from a few of the scores of letters and notes written to Howard Axelberg, Chairman of the Fund. They bear out the tremendous upsurge of spirit among Oglethorpe's former students.

"Glad to hear from you and that much progress is being made at our old school. Keep the good work up, and tell the other fellows there 'hello' for me." - M. N. "Knoxie" Jones '40, Blackville, South Carolina.

"Happy to see Oglethorpe doing such fine things. Please add this to complete my pledge. Wish it could be much more." - Martha G. Likins '54, 24 Hamilton Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Am enclosing check for the Forward Oglethorpe Fund. Wishing you much success in your efforts for Oglethorpe." Luther D. Wright '27, 1700 Rogers Ave., S. W., Atlanta 10, Ga.

"You probably remember us. I was in the post office for thirteen years. We are now living on our Indiana farm. My husband is past eighty, so we do not farm. We have many happy memories of the University, and are interested in all the news." - Charlotte S. Alward, Bert E. Alward '33, Kingman, Indiana.

"I am so sorry this is late, but I am interested in Oglethorpe. If I can help in any way, let me know." - Clare Findley Magbee '56 2636 Cheshire Bridge Rd., Atlanta, Georgia.

"I am delighted that Oglethorpe has someone to help. Frankly, I'd like to see my alma mater rise in every respect . . . also I was so glad to start receiving some mail from Oglethorpe. It's nice to know it's still there." Reva Murphy Greene '41, 4424 Blackburn Ave., Ashland, Ky.

"I hope all is well with you, and all my alumni friends." - Louis R. Piazza, D.D.S. '39, 2583 Marion Ave., Bronx, New York.

which will assure all who come that they will see many of their classmates and friends. Honorary alumni (husbands and wives of alumni) are cordially invited to come.

Don't miss the fun and excitement on Saturday, May 13.

DRS. JARRELL, COLLINS FETED BY 260

Two Oglethorpe alumni, who have probably advanced Georgia education more than any others during this century, were honored on March 24 at the Oglethorpe Alumni Breakfast. Alumni and friends numbering 260 turned out at 8 a.m. to pay just tribute to Oglethorpe's illustrious alumni, Drs. Ira Jarrell '28 and M. D. Collins '31.

Oglethorpe President, Dr. Donald C. Agnew, presented each with a hand bell with the engraving "... distinguished alumnus in the field of education."

O. K. Sheffield '53, President of the Alumni Association, was Master of Ceremonies, and Rev. W. P. "Bill" Allison '33 gave grace. After a delicious breakfast, several speakers spoke briefly about the notable achievements and personal characteristics of Miss Jarrell and Dr. Collins.

Devereaux F. McClatchey, Atlanta Attorney and former President of the Atlanta Board of Education, and Dr. Paul D. West '25, Superintendent of the Fulton County School System, described the dramatic changes which took place in Atlanta education during Miss Jarrell's terms of office.

Atlanta schools doubled from 77 to 144 and enrollment jumped to 115,000 from 56,000 during her 16 years as Superintendent. Teachers' salaries were equalized from the former unfair base which was determined by color, and the grade teachers taught, rather than on the bases of adequate training and experience.

Many programs were introduced that provided educational opportunities to students unable to attend school or ill suited to regular school instruction, including classes for homebound and hospitalized students, special education programs for the mentally and physically handicapped, superior student programs, and opportunities for adults interested in elementary, secondary and vocational studies.

Atlanta is one of the leading systems providing outside school teaching aids. A science room at the new Atlanta zoo, a planetarium, museum, educational radio and television stations are all available to aid the classroom teacher.

Dr. C. S. Hubbard, Assistant State Superintendent of Schools, and Mrs. S. C. Patterson, Coordinator of the State Scholarship Program and former GEA President, lauded Dr. Collins.

Dr. Collins has spent a lifetime of teaching and preaching to the people of Georgia. His career has reached from the one-room, one-teacher school at Old Liberty in Union County where he taught for $22.50 a month to serving for 25 years as State Superintendent of Schools of Georgia.

He has seen many progressive steps made in the Georgia educational pro-

TELL THE WORLD ABOUT YOU AND OGLETHORPE

News about Oglethorpe and her alumni can be likened to the infinite images seen when two mirrors are placed facing each other.

The greater the stature of Oglethorpe in the eyes of the community, the greater the admiration will be for Oglethorpe's alumni, the greater will be the stature of Oglethorpe ad infinitum.

When former students receive public recognition for promotions, achievements and other noteworthy items, they can help themselves and their alma mater by insisting that mention be made in announcements of their undergraduate education at Oglethorpe University.

Items of this kind are seen daily in newspapers. If all alumni would follow this suggestion, they would reinforce each other.

Think now, don't you feel a little differently about someone after learning they are a graduate of Harvard, Yale or Princeton? Why shouldn't Oglethorpe's graduates deserve the same impressions?

With your help and with continued efforts at Oglethorpe to improve educational excellence, this shall be accomplished.

Dr. Collins and Dr. Jarrell ring their bells "loud and long" as Dr. Agnew watches at the climax of the highly successful Oglethorpe Alumni Breakfast.

gram some of which are the Minimum Foundation program, a state teacher's salary schedule, nine months school term, teacher retirement system, free textbooks, expanded vocational education, audio-visual and library services, program for exceptional children, instructional supervisors, hot school lunches, vocational rehabilitation, visiting teachers, the twelfth grade, state trade and vocational schools and the 200 million dollar building program.

When Dr. Agnew presented each of the honored guests with a "modern version of the 'School Marm' hand bell," he said the bells were symbolic of the courage, unselfishness and complete dedication epitomized by the school marm and shown, through their achievements, by Dr. Ira Jarrell and Dr. M. D. Collins.

REMINISCING WITH THE WENDELL BROWNS

The Oglethorpe Clock

Periodically in the school paper and in the Atlanta papers appears a story about the Oglethorpe bells. There is something about these great extroverts with their loud intrusions every fifteen minutes that seems to fascinate writers. But so far as we know, no one has mentioned the brains and power behind these voices—the clock.

The clock was here before the bells and before our time, how long we do not know; and has been the source of more orderliness and confusion than even the students. Day and night it goes on, telling the bell when and how much to toll and starting the weights to furnish the power, as well as giving the time on two faces and turning on and off the lights that illuminate both faces and campus. It is regulated by an iron pendulum at the end of a four-foot wooden arm. And herein lies the trouble. Most tower clocks have a much longer arm, often compensated for changes in temperature. But Georgia's fluctuating weather plays havoc with our regulator and our time.

When we first came, Dr. Burroughs was keeper of the clock. Every morning, long before the first classes, he arrived, climbed the steep wooden stairs of the tower, pulled out his fat pocket watch, and set the clock for the day. We did not know that this was the secret of the clock's success. When he left, with dire misgivings, and those jacks-of-all-trades, George Seward and ourselves, were left with a responsibility we did not know existed, things began to happen. Classes late, students late, everything and everybody on a different schedule. For some reason we were not blamed; instead the onus went to our colleague, and Seward Standard Time became the joke of the day. Once a poem in the style of Chaucer celebrated the confusion, and even after things were again in hand, no one trusted the time for years to come.

The clock has figured in more important affairs than late classes. Its street face formed a perfect target for an Oglethorpe student who later went on to gain recognition as Georgia's Number One criminal. The bullet holes were still there when we arrived. Perhaps its most glamorous role was in the Refoule murder case. Here, the verdict hinged on whether the suspect ville for me to become associated with General Plywood Corporation as Secretary-Treasurer and a Director. One of our old friends, Jack Smith, and his wife, Mae Bess (McArthur), are now living in Louisville and we see them quite often." A. F. (Dolph) Spear '39, 726 Waterford Rd., Louisville, Ky.

"I am a 'windshield' farmer. I don't farm the land myself, I rent it out. We have been investing in farm land since the war . . . I'd really like to know about my old room mate, Freddie Thranhardt. Oh, yes! Where is 'Trigger'?" Pat Locascio '42, 3407 41st, Lubbock, Texas.

"Remember the trip from Georgia to New Jersey in the old Model A Ford, with you, your brother, Steve Schmidt and myself? Hearing from you gave me new spirit in the old 'Big O'. I get the Flying Petrel and always look for someone in the class of '40" - Al Fornarotto '40, School No. 27, Jersey City, N. J.

"You have worked hard and I do hope that many of the graduates of Oglethorpe have responded." - Mrs. R. M. Mitchell, Jr. '29, 823 Briareliff Rd., N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

"Congratulations on one of the best jobs I have ever seen. It has been great." - Thomas W. Daniel, Jr. '31, Flowery Branch, Georgia.

"My spirit is with the movement of Forward Oglethorpe, and I am delighted to see such capable leadership now in office." - Alice Bragg Geiger '42, 273 Rumson Rd., N. E., Atlanta 5, Ga.

had time to get from his classes at Oglethorpe to his house before the act was committed. He could not have if the tower clock had been correct or slow; he could have if it had been fast as much as ten or fifteen minutes. Fickle though it may have been, Seward Standard Time was never that giddy. We are happy to report that the Oglethorpe Clock saved its own.

A warm handshake after Dr. Agnew dedicated "Luther Drive" in honor of George Luther '32. Mr. Luther has contributed many services to Oglethorpe during the last few years including the major grading of the baseball field and improvement and widening of the road in front of the Field House, now his namesake.

ENROLLMENT WILL RISE IN THE FALL

Freshmen entering Oglethorpe next fall will be in greater abundance and have higher academic qualifications than their predecessors.

An aggressive student recruitment program, headed by field representative Mike Murphy '54 and alumni who are directing many good and superior students to Oglethorpe, are responsible for the upsurge in interest among high school students.

Most of the freshmen will have to commute because of the severe shortage of dormitory spaces. Recruitment of women students who would have to room on campus was halted before Christmas because of this limitation. Acceptance of men boarding students has virtually stopped.

In spite of the shortage of space, alumni should continue to encourage the better students to apply for admission in succeeding years. Graduating classes are getting larger, and the graduates have to be replaced. Also, it is hoped that our planned building program will begin to take a concrete form soon.

BASEBALL PETRELS UNDEFEATED

Oglethorpe's athletes removed their shorts and donned knickerbockers without losing a step. This amazing feat occurred when virtually every member of the basketball squad changed into baseball uniforms and promptly won their first three ball games.

Johnny Guthrie, with a two inning assist from Tom Norwood, dropped William Jewell College from Missouri 7-0 in the season's opener. The following day, Bobby Dalgleish held the visitors 4-1. The second game featured a pitching duel between Dalgleish and Jewell's top pitcher, who had been ailing, but was flown from Missouri expressly for that tilt.

In the lucky seventh of the latter game, Tom Norwood smacked a single followed by a 370 foot home run by Morris Mitchell. It was the first four bagger over the new ball park fence.

Led by fast ball, though somewhat erratic pitching by Tom Norwood, Oglethorpe ended a drought of many years by defeating Piedmont College 6-3. Again, Mitchell connected for a round trip with a man on base. Later, Norwood helped his cause with a homer of his own just inside the left field foul line. He hit the pitch thrown immediately after a near bean ball.

Coach Pinholster, never known to use the crying towel in his predictions, said, "If we don't have a good baseball team this year, we need a new coach. We have each position covered better than before, and my four lead-off hitters are the best anywhere around."

A tight infield is building up a creditable number of double plays. Pinholster is still doing some reshuffling, but the latest line up has Mitchell at first; Dobbs, second base; Guthrie, short stop; and Ken Borden, third base. Jay Rowland played third in the first two games.

Oreon Mann, son of former Atlanta Cracker owner Earl Mann '28, is team manager.

For really fine baseball, check the baseball schedule on this page, and come see the Petrels play.

Since this article was written two more games were won. See Baseball Schedule.

Varsity Tennis Returns To Oglethorpe

Varsity tennis is back in the Oglethorpe program after a three year absence. The first of eight scheduled matches has been played as of this writing and the Petrels downed Emory-at-Oxford 5½ to 3½.

Top seeded Oglethorpe netman is Peruvian Hernando Pantigoso. A native of Lima, Peru, he was National Junior Tennis Champion when he was 14. He gave up tennis after he was 15 and concentrated on soccer. Last year he was selected to the Peru Olympic Squad, but declined the invitation to come to Oglethorpe. Soccer will become the next intercollegiate sport at Oglethorpe next year. Pantigoso took first match 6-1, 6-2.

Others on the team are Gary Mulvannah; Bob Mallis, Savannah; Dan Cowart, Arlington; and Bob Nance, Dalton.

William H. Cohen, Assistant Professor of English, is coaching the team. In his evaluation of the squad, he said, "Generally, they are pretty hard workers. They've been playing all winter with the exception of Nance who played basketball. Mullins and Eiseman have improved their games tremendously."

He added, "We should beat Shorter and Emory-at-Oxford again, and we have a good chance of taking the rest of the teams."

The last match of the season is planned for Alumni Day, Saturday, May 13 at 9:00 A. M.

Petrels Downed in KC "Wait 'Til Next Year" Says Pinholster

Fourth seeded Oglethorpe got short shrift in Kansas City. Unseeded Peru State of Nebraska knocked the stiff legged Petrels out of the running 72-65 on the first day of the NAIA tournament.

Oglethorpe's redheaded mentor, Garland Pinholster, immediately gave the warning, "Wait 'til next year," and they had better believe it. He learns his lessons well.

Last year, Oglethorpe's basketball team ended up fourth in a four team play-off in Tampa, Fla. This season, the Petrels went all the way, beating two squads represented last year.

Graduation will pare four men from the teams, Wayne Dobbs, Sammy Hudgins, Buddy Goodwin and Roger Couch, but replacements are already in the fold.

Darrell Whitford is a 6'3" guard from Silver Grove, Ky., Goodwin's hometown. Whitford was named to the All-SEC junior conference team in 1960 as a result of his play with Brewton-Parker Junior College. Pinholster feels he is virtually unstoppable on offense, and he plays defense well.

Ray Thomas, a straight "A" student at Cedartown High School, was named AA "Player of the Year." He used his 6'3½" frame at forward, but he will probably play guard for Oglethorpe. He also shares the Georgia doubles champion crown in tennis this year.

"Very coachable" Billy Parker is president of the Newnan High School student body. He stands 6'5" tall and will play forward.

Pinholster said, "I'm excited about the possibilities of this whole ball club. Mitchell, Nance and Sexton, all young, were the best shooters this year."

Note to the members of the Petrel Watchers Club: Make your reservations for Kansas City early.

BOOSTERS GLOW WITH PRIDE

The Oglethorpe Athletic Booster Club approaches the end of another season with a glow of pride.

Oglethorpe's basketball team has concluded its finest season -- two tournament championships and a berth in the national small college tourney at Kansas City had been won. Our stature in sports has grown tremendously as can be shown in the more than fifty pages of clippings which adorn our official scrap-book.

Stronger opposition is on tap for next season -- teams of national reputation. We view our games, on campus again, in a field house second to none. Coach Pinholster has been named "Coach of the Year" for the third time in four years. We glow with pride!

Boosters have contributed almost $9,000.00 -- 75 percent of our goal for the year. The Board of Trustees recently approved an increase, from nine to ten, in the number of athletic grants. In honoring our request for this action, they have challenged us to a new goal of $14,500.00. We have more and better Boosters than ever before, some of them did not attend Oglethorpe -- they just like our brand of spirit. Every Booster should be proud!

However, we take greatest pride in the quality of the young men we scholarship.

Boost the undefeated Petrel baseball team at the Alumni Day game.

Sincerely,

Steve Schmidt, President
Oglethorpe Booster Club

ODE TO THE PETRELS

By Terry Kay

Reprinted with permission from the Decatur-DeKalb, News, Thursday, Mar. 16, 1961

(Written in honor of the Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe University and their victory in the NAIA District 25 Tournament, entitling them to go to Kansas City for the Nationals on March 13-18)

Fly high you gallant Petrel bird!
You've earned your niche in fame.
From nest to roost to flights unheard,
You fought and won your game!

They jeered at you when you began,
And snickered at your dream.
They spoke in jest from man to man,
And laughed to hear your scheme.

But you, believing, spread your wings
And hushed the doubtful crowd.
You rose to dare the reigning kings
And stand among the proud.

They say that Fortune comes and goes
And never comes again;
That Lady Luck, in passing, shows
No other chance to men.

But dumb are they who live by creed
And think that work is luck.
They fall -- and fallen never heed
They only had to duck.

But you have learned to watch and wait
And play each turn on turn;
To dodge the fickle hand of Fate
And make each gamble earn.

So soar in grandeur, Petrel bird,
You worked to get your name!
From nest to roost to flights unheard,
You're flying now with Fame!

MITCHELL, NORWOOD NAMED "ALL-STATE"

Two Oglethorpe players were selected to the mythical All-State Basketball Team by Atlanta Newspapers, Inc. sports staffs.

Morris Mitchell, a 6'6" sophomore center, is the only second year man to be placed in the first five. Tom Norwood, in his third year as first string guard, was included in the second five. Jay Dye '60 was named to the All-State starting five last year.

If new and returning players shape up to their potential, Oglethorpe could have three or four men win this honor next year.

1960-61 PETRELS, BEST EVER

Past records notwithstanding, the 1960-61 Oglethorpe basketball team was probably the finest in the history of the college.

The 20-4 season record was overshadowed by Petrel teams of 1958-59 (24-1) and 1946-47 (23-4), but the opposition this season was somewhat tougher than in previous campaigns.

Consider the fact that Oglethorpe lost to Stetson University 44-39 shortly after the Hatters defeated Miami which was ranked tenth nationally. Later in the 25th District NAIA tournament, the Petrels defeated Stetson 81-68 for the championship.

Oglethorpe also defeated the University of Tampa 82-65, a team that led third ranked Bradley for most of their ball game until Bradley "ran them off the floor" during the latter stages of the game.

Finally, the Petrel record this year, with heavy consideration on the quality of opponents, caused Oglethorpe's team to be seeded fourth nationally among the small college teams in the NAIA Kansas City tournament, a ranking no other Petrel basketball team has enjoyed.

Friday evening, May 12, the night before Alumni Day.

The Oglethorpe Development Program is the most ambitious undertaking in the University's history. To realize our ambition calls for massive help from a great many sources. The response to date is most heartening.
